RUSSIANS DRIVE HARD TOWARD PRUT RIVER

The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

JAPAN'S GENERAL TOJO is straining hard to make capital out of the Nipponese "invasion" across the northeast border of India from Burma, and it's of more than passing interest to find him trying to build a political sensation out of it with the claim that the so-called Indian national army, with headquarters in Burma, is participating with the idea of liberating India.

There is thus far no major threat, either military or political, against India. Allied headquarters minimize the importance of the attack. However, I'm sure they don't mean for us to dismiss lightly any enemy invasion. We cannot forget that this great sub-continent is the chief Allied base for the final smash against Japan. It's complete security is vital.

Chungking is shocked by the development. Unofficially the feeling is expressed in the Chinese capital that the invasion is supplying the Japanese propaganda guns with the best ammunition they've had in months.

The attack has come in the Chindwin river area of western Burma, where the enemy has driven two or more columns across the border into the primitive Indian state of Manipur. The invaders apparently are headed for Imphal, capital of Manipur and terminus of a good highway which connects in the north with the main Allied supply line—highway, railway, water, air—from India to China.

General Auchinleck, British commander in chief for India, sums the position up tersely with the declaration that "no real threat can materialize unless and until the Japanese manage to penetrate points where they can attack our main rail and air communications or our airfields in Assam." He says the Manipur drive is to divert Allied forces and relieve the pressure on the Japanese to the south, where the Allies are driving for the big Nipponese airbase at Akyab.

THAT'S THE MILITARY angle. It strikes me, however, that there's as much or even more political purpose in this Japanese operation. There is small doubt that Tojo long ago abandoned hope of invading India in a big way, but he never has given up hope of causing revolt among the British.

Both Tokyo and Berlin have been pouring anti-British propaganda into India over the air ever since

Seek Woman Who Passed Forged $130 Check Here

A young woman who gave a forged check in payment for $130 worth of wearing apparel at the Shield dress shop here is being sought by county authorities. The young woman purchased the articles and gave the clerk a check bearing an Alliance woman's name, drawn on an Alliance bank.

While the clerk went to the rear of the store to verify the check, the purchaser took the wrapped parcels and departed. Sheriff George Hayes has asked Pittsburgh police for a photograph of a young woman arrested there last week on a similar charge. He said she answers the general description of the one who visited the local store.

The judge said he would not hand down a decision before May 8. International News Photo, Copyright, 1944.

SOLONS AWAIT FUND MEASURE

Finance Committee Receives Rates From Budget Commission

City council's finance committee is expected to begin work soon on the preparation of the 1944 appropriation following council's approval of the amounts and rates of taxation as determined by the county budget commission.

The city at the present time is operating under a temporary three-month appropriation ordinance passed early in January.

The rates, furnished by the county so that council might proceed with its fiscal appropriation, show 2.80 mills inside the 10-mill limitation and an equal rate outside the 10-mill limitation, varying only a fraction more than last year, according to Harry Vincent, chairman of council's finance committee.

Definite taxation rates for Salem and other Columbiana county subdivisions will be announced after the final report on the county-wide reappraisal is made, it is understood.

The rates furnished council include 30 mill for police pensions but none for the firemen's pension fund as requested two weeks ago by Chief Vincent Malloy.

The request should have been made last summer before the city submitted its budget to county officials, Vincent reported, in effect, when council convened Tuesday night. The matter was taken up with the county officials a week ago when council was told to include the request in its estimate of 1945 needs in July.

Until the new appropriation is adopted, City Auditor Karl Webster is trying to maintain payrolls by keeping the lid clamped on expenditures.

SGT. SCALLEY NOW PRISONER OF WAR

Staff Sgt. Robert E. Scalley, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Scalley of Sebring, who was reported missing in action Dec. 30, in the European area, is now a German prisoner of war, according to word received by his parents through the International Red Cross.

Sgt. Scalley, nephew of Mrs. Charles Moore, and grandson of Mrs. Lizzie Burdick of Perry st., enlisted in the Army Air Corps, Nov. 16, 1942, and received his basic training at Atlantic City, N. J. He later graduated from Army Air Forces technical training school in Chicago, where he completed a course in radio and mechanics.

He received his gunner's wings at Tyndall field, Fla., and was transferred from there to Salt Lake City, Geiger field, Wash., Pendleton, Ore., and Topeka, Kan.

He went overseas Nov. 1, 1943, where he was stationed in England and was on his seventh mission as a tail gunner of a B-17 Flying Fortress when the plane was shot down over enemy territory.

A graduate of Sebring McKinley High school in 1942, he was employed at the Royal China plant before he entered the service.

Military Call Is Expected For Most Men In 18-25 Age Group

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 24.—The vast majority of men civilians 18 through 25 years of age are virtually on their way to a fighting war, unless they work on a farm or can't pass a physical test.

That became increasingly apparent today despite the uproar over drafting key technicians in industry. Only a comparative handful of men under 26 are likely to be deferred much longer.

The others are wanted for combat duty. The President has ordered it and all government agencies have accepted it. There is no struggle over that basic policy.

On the other hand, officials estimate 30 to 40 per cent of the under-26 men who are called will fail to meet physical standards and will go into 4-F, most of them to return to essential jobs.

Latest figures show that on Feb. 1 there were in the 18-25 age group 349,000 non-farmers alone who were deferred in war production or war-supporting activities other than agriculture. Of those, at least 100,000 would be rejected.

Following is the general situation as pieced together from informed officials of the agencies involved.

Two problems have been worrying production and manpower agencies: 1) There are some young men, especially in new fields, like radar, synthetic rubber and 100-octane gasoline, who have better technical or scientific training than their elders and the army recognizes them when irreplaceable ought to stay on the job.

2) Important industries like railroading, lumber and coal mining are in such desperate need of manpower that losing any substantial number of men at all would be disastrous.

State draft directors have been instructed to defer men under 26 in critical positions and irreplaceable. The dilemma is: How many men should the state directors choose and in what activities?

The production executive committee, including representatives of the War Production board, War Manpower commission, Army and Navy, has undertaken to help the state directors. And a formula is expected to be announced momentarily.

Overhauling the whole preceding is the increasingly important role the Army is playing in determining not only of military strategy, but of occupational deferment policy.

Of a type not usually attempted by amateur groups, this particular play deftly handles a difficult psychological situation in which an immature young wife has maturity forced upon her suddenly by a series of fast moving situations that run the gamut from highly amusing comedy to sharp-edged drama.

Only one member of the present cast has appeared in either of the previous plays given by the club, that being Phoebe Ellen Parsons, playing the difficult role of Mrs. Brown, Claudia's mother. Miss Parsons starred in "The Ninth Guest."

The title role of Claudia will be played by a newcomer, Jane Fuller. David Naughton, Claudia's husband, will be played by Walter Hartsough. Bertha Dixon is taking the role of Bertha, housekeeper in the Naughton home, and the role of Fritz, the butler, is taken by Howard S. Dodge.

Jerry Seymour will be played by Howard Parker. Harriet Anderson will play the role of Madame Darschka, opera star, and Edith Hartsough will take the part of Julia Naughton, Claudia's sister-in-law.

Within a few days Ross will announce the entire technical and business staff and the exact dates for the production.

U. S. BOMBERS HIT REICH IN THIRD ASSAULT

Blast Military Targets In Western Germany After RAF Night Blows

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 24.—American heavy bombers drove into Germany for the third straight day today, bombing military targets in western Germany, a United States communiqué announced, following strong RAF night blows at objectives in France.

While Flying Fortresses smashed into Germany to the accompaniment of the German warning service, "Achtung, (attention) Achtung! Strong enemy bomber formations flying over western Germany." Liberators bombed enemy airfields in northeastern France.

These attacks raised to 19—a new high record—the number of attacks in a single month. Fourteen of the attacks in March were directed against targets in Germany.

Rail Yards Blasted
As on yesterday when a six-prong assault was made on railroad yards, aircraft stations and other objectives in western Germany, the heavy bombers today were escorted by strong formations of Lightning, Thunderbolt and Mustang fighters.

RAF heavies, bombing objectives around the industrial city of Lyon in southern France and the rail yards of Lyon, 80 miles northeast of Paris, last night brought the total Allied air forces over Germany and occupied territory in 36 hours to between 5,000 and 6,000 planes. Bomb tonnage for that period was boosted to around 7,000.

The Vichy radio, describing last night's RAF raid on Lyon, said "numerous delayed-action bombs were dropped, destroying 50 houses" in one district. Aside from being a manufacturing center, Lyon is a junction for seven main railroad lines and has important metal factories, an inland harbor with 24 miles of docks and three airfields.

First American fighter and bomber groups back from today's raids reported no enemy opposition.

Two RAF planes were lost last night in operations which included Mosquito stabs at the Rhineland.

Joan Berry Admits Trysts With Movie Comedian Chaplin

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Joan Berry, who has testified she kept many an illicit tryst with Charlie Chaplin, was recalled today for further cross-examination at the comedian-producer's trial on Mann act charges.

The 24-year-old former dramatic student, who in another case alleges Chaplin is the father of her child, told a federal court jury their intimacies took place in Beverly Hills and New York City.

Chaplin, 54, is charged with transporting her to New York and return for immoral purposes.

His attorney, Jerry Giesler, was headed off by government objections whenever he attempted any reference to Joan's previous sex experience, if any. As his final question of the day he asked Miss Berry if, on her return trip to Hollywood, she was accompanied to the train "by the same man who arranged for your rooms at the Pierre hotel" in New York.

U. S. Attorney Charles H. Carr had been leading to his feet repeatedly during the cross-examination. Again he bounded from his chair. His objection was sustained by Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor, and charges.

Soldier Strike

ACCORDING TO Phillip Scacco, 28, above, a Cleveland soldier who has been given a medical discharge for wounds received after two years of fighting in the Pacific, approximately 2,000 Ohio soldiers threw down their arms and refused to fight for two hours during the battle of Guadalcanal because they were enraged at news that John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers were on strike back home. "We just wanted to show our feeling through the demonstration to the folks at home," Scacco said. "We didn't mean we wouldn't fight. That's absurd." Scacco told newsmen that "good leadership" by officers brought the strike to an end. He also said that at least eight Yanks pledged "to cut Lewis to bits" when they returned to the states.

YANKS VISITED BY CHURCHILL

Prime Minister Watches U. S. Airborne Troops Stage Demonstration

BY ROGER GREENE
LONDON, March 24.—Prime Minister Churchill paid a surprise visit to American air-borne troops in the English countryside today and in a voice of deep feeling told them they "soon will have the opportunity" of landing upon the soil of Nazi-occupied Europe.

In company with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, senior commander of American ground forces in United Kingdom, and Major Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the U. S. Ninth Air Force, the prime minister witnessed the colorful spectacle of hundreds of American skytroops leaping from swift-rolling waves of planes on to the green English fields a few hundred yards from the reviewing stand.

"You have a great part to play," Churchill told them. "You are specially trained. You are the most modern expression of war."

"It is with feelings of profound encouragement that I have the honor to review you here today. In these weeks which are passing so swiftly I see gathered here on English soil these soldiers, specially trained, of our great American ally preparing themselves to strike a LISBON, March 24.—The head of a dog believed to have been infected with rabies, captured and shot by Chief of Police Dalton Pike and County Dog Warden L. J. Stark yesterday after it had bitten a child and attacked two dogs, has been sent to Columbus for analysis.

The animal, owned by Robert Strable of the Thomas rd., if infected, probably infected two other dogs, one of which officers caught. The other is still at large.

Warden Stark said that in one day last week, 14 animals were picked up in the county-wide drive to end the spread of rabies and enforce regulations prohibiting animals from running at large.

20 SOLDIERS LOST AS RAFT CAPSIZES

WITH THE SECOND ARMY ON MANEUVERS. Somewhere in Tennessee, March 24.—High waters of the Cumberland river today hampered efforts of searching parties to locate approximately 20 Second Army soldiers missing since an Army raft capsized during an attempted river crossing early Thursday morning, army officials said.

The raft carried about 22 men, of which at least two made their way to shore, and the army officials said others might find their way back to their outfit.

Names were not disclosed, but Second Army headquarters said the majority of the men were infantrymen and members of a Company B attached to the Blue forces on maneuvers.

Turkey Keeps Wary Eye On Balkan Front

Report Germans Rush Reinforcements Into Rumania, Bulgaria

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 24.—Turkish advances reported today German reinforcements had been rushed to all points on the Rumanian and Bulgarian coasts of the Black sea and indicated possible beginning of full-scale occupation of all Rumania as part of Hitler's preparations for a last-ditch stand against the advancing Russian armies.

Turkey herself was said to be casting an anxious eye over German troop movements throughout southeastern Europe.

An Istanbul dispatch said it had been learned reliably there the Germans were in full control of every Rumanian and Bulgarian city on the Black sea, with all local troops under Nazi officers.

By one unconfirmed estimate current in Ankara, the Nazis have drawn off 25 divisions from their central reserve in Germany in order to occupy Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

The Turks, following their established principle of taking precautions against every possible contingency, were said to be re-examining the possibility the Germans might invade Turkish thrice—the bridgehead into the Balkans and the European route to the Dardanelles.

Communications Cut
An Associated Press dispatch said a rigorous check in Istanbul in connection with the report the Germans had begun taking over all facilities in Rumania yesterday failed to produce either confirmation or a denial. Telephone communication between Turkey and Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, was suspended.

No information had yet reached Turkey to indicate the Germans were marching into Bulgaria. In force, although reports earlier in the week had said Nazi military authorities were assuming control of communications and railways there.

Expectations in Ankara, however, were that Bulgaria would follow Rumania in the step-by-step occupation of the entire eastern Balkans believed to have been laid down by Hitler in order to make a determined bid to halt the Russians in western Bessarabia and along the Black sea coast.

(A London broadcast quoted a Swiss dispatch as reporting that Prince Cyril of Bulgaria and Regent Bogdan Philov "have been ordered to the headquarters of Hitler next Monday.")

Neutral sources said the new quelling regime in Hungary, assisted by the Gestapo, was pressing a purge of anti-Nazis and Jews throughout the country.

Salvation Army Movies Are Seen
Films on the work of the Salvation Army in England and in New York City were shown by Capt. Barton, who discussed the activities of the organization at a meeting of Kiwanis club Thursday noon at the Memorial building. W. W. Tolerton was program chairman.

Aid to British air raid victims, maintenance of nurseries to care for children of war workers in England were shown, as well as work of the Army in New York among underprivileged young people and families.

Funds for the purchase of a piano for the new local barracks were donated by club members during the meeting which was in charge of Harold Smith, vice president.

A meeting of the committee in support of the churches and their spiritual aims was announced for Tuesday noon at the Lape hotel, where Chester Cope, chairman of the group, will chair.

The club has turned in a perfect attendance record for the last two months and is well on the way to setting a third perfect attendance record.

Sergt. Robert Heddlestone of Camp Campbell, Ky., and Robert Davis of Columbus and Herbert Kelley were welcomed as guests.

LISBON, March 24.—Eight district men who passed pre-induction examinations at Cleveland Feb. 16, were taken there this morning enroute to naval training stations.

THE PRINCIPLES ARE FINE

Secretary of State Hull's statement on foreign policy principles, it is immediately evident, do not get to the root of popular doubt about administration of foreign policy. The principles are fine. They are like the principles of the New Deal; no one can quarrel with them. But there seems to be something wrong about the procedure.

The American people are seeking reassurance that their government will not be held prisoner in an ivory tower of principle while other governments realistically get down to work on the terra firma of negotiations and action. Their uncertainty may be caused to some degree by an inferiority complex about the conduct of diplomacy in competition with such realists as Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin. But it also is traceable in part to the misgivings that have been caused by the direct evidence of diplomatic confusion beginning as far back as the London economic conference and extending through the misfortunes of Japanese appeasement, the difficulties with Argentina and present doubts about the disposition of naval and aviation bases and the inclination of Premier Stalin's government to discount whatever results may have been reached at Teheran by persistently putting the other conferees in that meeting at a disadvantage. This embarrassment, evidently, is being shared by Great Britain, which is forced to admit it shared this government's ignorance of Russia's intention to recognize the Badoglio government in occupied Italy.

The Roosevelt administration is plainly preparing to claim mastery of the intricacies of foreign policy in its forthcoming campaign for reelection. It must expect, therefore, to stand on its record of performance. Mr. Hull's restatement of the general principles which guide it in order, but the assurance the people want is not in the realm of principle. They want to feel that their government is not working at a disadvantage in the full protection of national and international security during and after the war.

UNLIMITED DEMAND

There could be no more misleading formula for post-war planning than the currently popular claim that peace production needs only to equal war production to maintain war boom prosperity.

War boom prosperity is created by unlimited demand for a wide variety of articles produced for military purposes, with relatively no transfer of usefulness for other purposes. It is created by the manufacture of a vast deal of extremely costly equipment which may be destroyed after a few minutes of use. Because there is virtually unlimited demand not only for material to be used directly in waging war but also to be piled up in enormous military stores, the war boom continues for the duration of belligerency, financed as far as possible out of taxation and financed the rest of the way by accumulation of debt. The net effect on real national wealth is, of course, a depletion of resources for the sake of national security.

Only on the supposition of unlimited demand for peace-time goods, backed up by the supposition of those goods being consumed and destroyed at a wartime rate, can the formula of maintaining prosperity by merely continuing wartime production rates be justified. There can be prosperity after the war if peace-time demand can be created and sustained on a basis of real buying power, but to assert, as many are now doing, that production, itself, is the secret is to assert that war boom prosperity is a healthy condition, worth duplicating when the war is over.

THE MAN WITH THE RIFLE

There is poetic justice—and there should be more than that—in the foot soldier's rising star in World War II.

At the outset of hostilities, he was neglected. Armored troops moving with incredible speed and power were going to supplant him on the ground, and it appeared that an even more potent substitute would be found in the aviation arm. Infantry, announced the theorists, had been outmoded.

During the course of the war, the infantryman found himself shoved out of the publicity picture by such novel and glamorous figures as parachute troops, specially trained Commandos and Rangers and the amphibious marine. He yielded precedence to artillerymen and even to the hard-working mechanics who serviced the war's thundering hordes of mechanized equipment.

Nevertheless as the fighting came to closer grips, first in Russia, then in the South Pacific, the plain soldier with a rifle and the staying power to maintain himself as a fighting unit when all else failed, began to come into his own. He emerged as the ultimate decisive force in warfare, the secret weapon that could be depended on when all else failed.

The infantrymen, aided by air power, machinery, electronics, new weapons, propaganda, grand strategy, sea power and the battalions of production behind the lines, is now being proclaimed the deciding factor in battle. Until he has slogged his weary way to the objective, it has not been taken. The new weapons finally cancel out, leaving the man with the rifle and the final full measure of devotion to carry the day or lose it.

THREE-IN-ONE BALKANS

Key to Germany's mounting task of securing its military position in the Balkans is the interdependence of Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary. Not because they love one another, but because their own ultimate fate depends on equality of advantage, they must hang together or hang separately.

Bulgaria and Russia have remained at peace. But all three governments declared war on the United States at the same time. This government reciprocated by declaring war on them in midsummer of 1942. In the present crisis precipitated by the break-through of the Russian army into Bessarabia, it is probable that defection from the German line on the part of any one of the three would cause similar action in the other two. This is clearly what Germany hopes to avert by prompt action to destroy what little remains of their sovereignty. Like all other puppet states in Hitler's empire, it now becomes their fate to be sacrificed to German interests in an emergency.

Bessarabia, of course, formerly was Russian and probably will become Russian again. It was annexed from Turkey during the Napoleonic wars and the annexed territory added to in 1829 and again in 1878. Germany set it up as an independent state after Russia's defeat in World War I, and it was thereafter annexed by Rumania when Germany collapsed. This move was confirmed by Great Britain, France and Italy. When Russia demanded a plebiscite, Rumania refused, but Russia never ceased to speak of it as Russian territory temporarily under foreign occupation.

EXCELLENT prospects for steady progress upon cherished goals and expansive and enduring objectives, is read from the predominant stellar configurations. It demands persistent, serious and concentrated efforts to attain sound and enduring success. This may attract the attention and approbation of elders or those in substantial positions, whose rewards may take the form of gifts, trusts or bequests. However, it might be well to shun all extravagances, excesses and personal prodigality.

Birthday Predictions

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of surprising success, or of an unusual culmination of serious and determined efforts to reach important goals or cherished hopes and wishes. In finance, business and personal ambitions there will be happy and prosperous attainments. In this, elders or other solid persons may assist by trusts, gifts or legacies. Inclinations to extravagant adventures either in investments or the pursuit of pleasure should be curbed.

A child born on this day will have sound and sterling gifts and qualities, and will achieve success, although disposed to the good things of life extravagantly and perhaps excessively.

There must be the forthright recognition that in a machine age the great mass of humanity must work for wages. This is not to say that the channels of opportunity for individual enterprise will be closed.—Henry J. Kaiser.

I am not thinking about an early end of the war, but no matter when it comes, we are not going to be prepared.—John M. Hancock, co-author Baruch report.

Spring is a virgin, Summer a mother, Autumn a widow, and Winter a step-mother.—Polish proverb.

Strange Results of Eye Defects

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THERE ARE all sorts of paradoxes that come up about vision. In one factory a girl on the assorting line turned in nearly twice as much work as her fellow workers; then something went wrong; when they came to examine the quality of her work it was way below par; when they examined her vision that was way below par too; he worked more rapidly than the others because her poor vision did not allow her to see the defects in the material she was sorting. This was a common experience in certain war factories, until more careful eye examinations began to be made.

A chauffeur or truck driver on the contrary with only one eye is found by statistics to have fewer accidents than a two-eyed man, and far fewer than a two-eyed man with fifty per cent vision in each eye.

One would think that color vision was a necessity for the safety of a motorist. But statistically the traffic departments of many cities show there are almost no accidents due to this defect among color blind drivers. They learn to compensate; they learn the position of the red and green lights in the stop signals and hence can tell which is showing; they stop and start with crowds, and conscious of their defect are always on the alert.

Color-Blindness
For a while it was said that color-blind aviators did better than normal ones in some jobs; that they could spot camouflaged objectives in the field better for lack of color sense; but I think this idea has been given up. Aviators have the finest vision of the sons of men.

The relation of error and accident in work to defective vision is in many instances due to whether the individual knows of the defect in vision. The one-eyed chauffeur is always on the alert, and does better than the over-confident, two-eyed one. The sorting girl, on the contrary, was plenty conscientious, but simply unaware of her bad eyesight.

Conditions of total war have certainly brought out the eyesight deficiencies of our population. It is hard to realize until you think about it that a person may be sublimely unconscious of having bad eyesight. They started out to look at the world through their own eyes, that is the way the world looks to them and it never occurs to them that it looks any different to anybody else. Yet to them there may be no reds or yellows, only different shades of grays, and their middle distance may be blurred, or the far distance blurred, or everything look like a flat plate.

Vision Tests
One of the most important of the new developments in testing vision is this question of percep-

Industrialists Figure Ohio Postwar Employment Should Be Higher Than Before War

SECOND OF SERIES
By The Associated Press

One striking thought showing in the minds of Ohio industrialists sampled on their post-war plans is the idea that after the reconversion period—estimated to range from a few days to a year—employment should be higher than before Pearl Harbor.

A few even indicate they may be able to increase present war-swollen employ lists if new markets develop in pace with their plans. Most expect to split the difference between their pre-war and war-time payrolls, or to hold near present figures.

For instance, the huge National Cash Register Co., a buttress of Dayton's economic life, now is employing about 160 per cent of its pre-war total, and hopes to settle to 120 or 130 per cent when it can resume making cash registers and other business machinery. Frigidair of Dayton, reports present employment at 122 per cent of pre-war and hopes to hold that.

In Akron, General Tire & Rubber Co., whose reconversion problem will be mainly changing the shipping tags on tires and stopping production of barrage balloons, rubber life rafts, etc., has a present employment of 150 per cent, and tomorrow's is expected to be around 125.

The International Harvester plant at Springfield looks for 108 per cent after the war; Electric Auto-Lite of Toledo for continuation of its present 125 if the automobile business comes up to expectations; Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing at Mansfield for continuation of its present 110 per cent; Ohio Brass Co. of Mansfield for continuation of its 120 to 130 per cent of its usual customers present their usual demands; and White Motor Co. of Cleveland, continuation of 150 per cent.

Toledo's Spicer Mfg. Corp., makers of automobile and truck parts and other war goods, has expanded 400 per cent for war production, and officials indicate they will try to make new products to keep the present 100,000 workers employed. Among companies expecting to need more workers is the Owens-Corning Fiberglass Co. of Toledo, now with a 200 per cent employee list. This firm sees brand-new uses for its spun glass products, especially in the home building field.

Taylorcraft Optimistic

Taylorcraft Aviation Corp. of Alliance, now turning out trainers and liaison planes also expects its 200 per cent force to grow to satisfy its share of an expected demand for 20,000 to 25,000 light planes in the first post-war year. However, Waco Aircraft Co. of Troy, with a working force of 500 to 600 per cent making gliders instead of fast private planes, declines to share such definite optimism, commenting only that its officials "don't know the answers yet because they are so busy with war work."

Smaller companies surveyed are uncertain. Mersman Bros. Corp. of Celina, pre-war furniture maker and war-time producer of wood and plywood products, already is down to 70 per cent of pre-war employment, and expects considerable demand for replacement of worn-out furniture to keep the present force busy.

Troy Sunshade Co., now at 100 per cent of pre-war employment, expects a 50 per cent reduction during a four-month reconversion period. It expects heavy demand for its porch furniture, lawnmower parts, and bicycle tubing, but is not certain about others of its many products.

Returning Servicemen

Although the general picture seems to be one of heavy employment, the industries are still faced with a problem of fitting returning service men into their lists. General Tire, in its reduction from 150 to 125 per cent, expects that women mainly will be laid off, and Ohio Brass also expects to replace women.

How general a policy this can be made remains to be seen and a good many industrialists expect plenty of hair pulling, when the time comes for women to decide whether their

The bureau predicts nearly a million ex-service men and former war workers will return to the state after demobilization.

Whether the state's industries and businesses can take them in is the question of the day.

Republican Choice Of Keynoter Still Wide Open Affair

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 24.—House Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts was reported in line today for the permanent chairmanship of the Republican national convention but the important choice of a keynoter appears to be wide open.

National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler announced that the 26-member arrangements committee would meet in Chicago April 18 and 19 to pick the temporary chairman, who served as keynoter, the permanent chairman and complete details for the nominating convention beginning there June 26.

Martin has been approached by party leaders who want him to handle the gavel, as he did in Philadelphia in 1940, but thus far he has not said he would accept.

Choice of a keynoter appeared likely to generate a controversy, with potential presidential candidates taking a hand before the issue is settled. As the name implies, the keynoter is supposed to start the convention off with a bang, pointing the party's path toward its November objective of electing a president.

Thus far the list of possible chieftains has been confined largely to public office holders but there is a disposition on the part of some high ranking Republicans to choose a man primarily representing business, rather than political interests.

The keynoter does not necessarily have to be a delegate to the convention.

There has been talk of enlisting such a man as Eric Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The possibilities also include the 26 Republican governors, but many of these may be disqualified because they are potential aspirants for the presidency or vice presidency.

Backers of Wendell Willkie, the 1940 nominee, are understood to be determined the keynoter shall represent a liberal viewpoint on foreign policy if possible.

JOAN BERRY

the upshot was that Miss Berry responded only that Chaplin personally did not buy her tickets from New York to Hollywood.

Slender Miss Berry, whose auburn hair falls over her shoulders, sat erect in the witness chair, her hands tightly clasped in her lap. Once or twice she appeared on the verge of an emotional break, as when Prosecutor Carr asked her bluntly:

"Did you have sexual intercourse with the defendant during July and August?" (1941).

Giesler in cross-examination, brought from Miss Berry the statement that she had met the slight, silver-haired film comedian in May, 1941.

She testified she was intimate with Chaplin about two weeks after she had met him.

"Did you consent voluntarily?" Giesler asked.

"Yes," Miss Berry responded, almost in a whisper.

F. D. R. Pledges Aid To War Refugees

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Roosevelt, reaffirming the intention of America to aid the escape of refugees marked for death by the enemy, proposed in a statement today that the free peoples of Europe and Asia temporarily open their frontiers to victims of oppression.

The chief executive also told a press-radio conference in a separate statement that America would fulfill its pledge for independence of the Philippines.

He remarked to reporters he had quite a bit to offer today on foreign policy, and he spoke in a sarcastic vein of those who, he said, had asserted this country lacked such a policy.

Reading the initial paragraph of his statement on refugees, he said it was very good answer to some people who are wandering around asking bell-heps whether we have a foreign policy. The paragraph said:

"The United Nations are fighting to make a world in which tyranny and aggression can not exist; a world based upon freedom, equality and justice; a world in which all persons regardless of race, color or creed may live in peace, honor and dignity."

Speaking a bit later of persons threatened with annihilation as "Hitler's forces descend more heavily upon these lands" in the Balkans, the president asserted it was "fitting that we should again proclaim our determination that none who participate in these acts of savagery shall go unpunished."

That is more foreign policy, he commented.

McCall was charged with possessing equipment for manufacturing illegal liquor.

War Labor Board Gets CIO Demands

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The CIO United Steel Workers of America, after more than three months of preliminary fencing, today began the main drive of what may be an epic campaign to smash the Little Steel formula and obtain other concessions in its contract with the steel industry.

President Philip Murray, flanked by union aides and a policy committee of about a hundred men, outlined to a six-man panel of the War Labor board the basis of 14 demands, foremost of which are a general increase of 17 cents an hour, a guaranteed annual wage, vacations, dismissal pay, and a joint fund for steel workers in the armed services.

A brief of the union's case pictured the wage earners as the frozen segment of the American economy while industry and the farmers have a guaranteed minimum income now and in the immediate postwar years.

The current hearing involves 94 companies which employ more than 80 per cent of the 503,000 wage earners in the steel industry.

Find Mother's Body

BUYRUS, March 24.—The frozen body of Mrs. Daisy Wilson, 57, a deep gash in her forehead, was found in a locked cold room at her home last night by a son who returned from the west Sunday and had been living since at the family home under the belief his mother was away on a visit.

Coroner O. R. Kackley said Ray Teeters, son of the woman by a previous marriage, related that upon his return from Colorado a relative told him Mrs. Wilson was visiting in Mansfield. Last night he opened the locked room and came upon the body.

Kackley said the woman had been dead a week.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?" "In 'The Stars and Stripes'...the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?" "It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?" "Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.' " "Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

James G. Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati, Paul Herbert, Ohio lieutenant governor and Tom Herbert, state attorney general together called for Republican support in the coming national and state elections.
Stewart, first on the program at the annual dinner meeting of employees of Stark County Republican Auditor Joseph L. Yoder, urged a campaign "without any mud, without any slander and without any sneer."
Tom Herbert declared that winning the war — and the following peace — were the most important tasks facing the nation today.
Paul Herbert specifically attacked Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Mayor Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland and Frazier Reams of Toledo. He asserted Lausche could not co-operate with his own city council.
Referring to Reams' criticism of state handling of rehabilitation for war veterans, he said that overnight facilities to train 100,000 men could be made available if necessary.

ENEMY LINES

heart of the communications area controlling Lwow's connections with the lower Ukraine, the Russians said.

Tarnopol Outflanked

This strong push by the First Ukrainian army also outflanked Tarnopol, dispatches reported, and left the twin German defense position of Proskurov to the east within the Red army's salient. It appeared that the German counteroffensive in this sector has been broken and that immediate withdrawal or destruction faces Field Marshal Von Manstein's Axis armies.
(Berlin declared other Soviet forces, presumably part of Zhukov's army, had stormed into the important junction of Kovel on the main road to Warsaw. Kovel is only 33 miles from the German-Russian partition boundary established in 1923 and 190 miles from Warsaw itself.)
Zhukov's advance guards, pounding down the railway south of Tarnopol, were reported less than 70 miles from the Prut river boundary line of Rumania and slightly less than that distance from the Czechoslovakian frontier.
Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's third Ukrainian army was reported battling enemy troops in the outskirts of Voznesensk on the Bug river, 50 miles north of Nikolae and 80 miles northeast of Odessa. Nikolaev was more closely threatened by a Russian thrust through the town of Konstantinovka, 10 miles to the north, and by other Red army troops pressing the port defenses five miles to the southeast.

YANKS VISITED

blow for a greater cause than either of our two countries have ever fought for in bygone days," Churchill continued.

Chat With Soldiers

"It is a world cause because, though no one can tell how the future of the world will shape itself, we are determined that the dark tyrannies which have overclouded our lives and drawn our people from their homes shall be broken and battered down, and that an example shall be made of the guilty which will prevent such tyrannies from being erected again upon the masses of the people."
It was Churchill's first inspection visit to an all-American unit and the prime minister paused repeatedly to talk with the men from France.

"I thank God you are here," he said "and from the bottom of my heart I wish you all good fortune and success."
Both Churchill and Eisenhower stood up in the reviewing stand draped with red, white and blue parachutes, as fleets of sky troop-carriers thundered low over the horizon and tumbled out their cargoes of heavily-armed men.
Obviously impressed, Churchill took a firmer clench of his long black cigar and turned to Eisenhower with a nod of resolute confidence on the role to be played by America's sky soldiers in the storming of Hitler's Europe.

JAP ADVANCE IN INDIA REPULSED

Allied Troops Drive Enemy From 3 Manipur
Valley Positions

(By Associated Press)

NEW DELHI, March 24.—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today Allied troops had attacked a Japanese column advancing from the south on the important road junction of Imphal in India's Manipur river valley and had driven the enemy from three positions covering the Tiddim-Imphal road.

Advices last night said Japanese forces were within 30 miles of Imphal, having advanced 60 miles into India after crossing the border from the Tiddim area in northern Burma in a surprise thrust.

Another Japanese column, which crossed the Indian frontier earlier after pushing over the upper Chind-win river near Thungdud, was last reported some 30 miles east of Imphal.

The communiqué said this column had attempted to approach the road running from Tamu on the border to Palel, 24 miles southeast of Imphal, and that one enemy detachment had been dispersed.
Another enemy column in the Kabaw valley along India's border was ambushed and some of its tanks destroyed.

Delayed dispatches reported the Japanese had lost 600 to 700 in killed in less than a week. Losses of the British 14th army were described as much lighter.

Hard fighting developed north of Tunzan, 17 miles north of Tiddim in the Manipur valley, when British troops from the Tiddim area moved north to meet a threat to their flank from an enemy unit which cut the Tiddim-Imphal road.
Supplies were dropped by plane to the British troops when the road was cut by road blocks established by Japanese at a number of points.

Cassino Fighting
Still Unchanged

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 24.—Two new bomber blows against enemy supply lines in Northern Italy—at Florence and Padua—were announced by Allied headquarters today as heavy fighting continued in Cassino with no material change in the situation.

American Marauders yesterday battered the Campo Di Marte freight yard, largest in the Florence area.
Reconnaissance showed great destruction to warehouses and tracks.
Heavy bombers attacked rail targets for the second consecutive night at Padua, important junction point west of Venice.

Other airmen yesterday hit railroad bridges at Pontassieve southeast of Florence and Falconara
Inside Cassino, New Zealand troops still beat savagely against stubbornly-defended German strong-points with the support of tanks and a heavy screen of artillery and mortar fire. The Nazi defenders were supported by both air attacks and increased artillery fire.

Official reports said the latest phase of the relentless struggle for the town's ruins began shortly after noon Wednesday with enemy movements observed near the Hotel Des Roses, which still is in German hands.

LISBON, March 24.—Police yesterday took into custody Pvt. Charles Jones, 18, formerly a Lisbon resident, who had been visiting friends here. Investigation revealed the soldier was AWOL from Fort Benning, Ga., for the second time in a month, and military authorities in Cleveland were notified. Previously in the Navy for five months before he received a medical discharge, Jones was inducted into the Army and has been absent without leave on other occasions, police said.

CROWLEY, MELLETT,
F D R AIDES, QUIT

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Roosevelt announced today the resignations of Leo T. Crowley as alien property custodian and Lowell Mellett as a presidential assistant.

The chief executive told a press-radio conference Crowley would continue to handle his duties as foreign economic administrator. He said he had not selected a successor as alien property custodian but would do so soon.

Mellett gave up his job as a presidential administrative aide to go back into newspaper work, with the Washington Evening Star. The President said he regretted Mel-lett's departure and, facetiously, said he had done this to his disgust.

The President remarked that Crowley had written him a letter a few days ago bearing on the farm machinery issue. Criticism has arisen in Congress over the question of shipments of such equipment abroad.

The President said he would love to have used one figure from Crowley's letter—a figure that showed less than two per cent of the available American supply of farm machinery has been exported under lend-lease since the program began.
In the main, Crowley said, this equipment has gone to such countries as Australia, New Zealand and the United Kingdom to assist in increasing vitally needed food production for the war.

Gen. Montgomery Sees
Year of War In Europe

LONDON, March 24.—The European war may last a year or longer, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared today in an address saluting the British ground forces he will lead in the forthcoming invasion and calling for full cooperation on the home front.
He asserted "it will be a magnificent party and we shall win. It will be a proper job for proper men."

Bags 17th Nazi Plane

LONDON, March 24.—Capt. Don S. Gentile of Piqua, O., knocked down two enemy planes yesterday while escorting bombers to Germany. This brought his total to 17 —a tie for fourth place among the aces of the European theater.

The War Today

the war started in an effort to start a revolution. The Japanese have posed as the liberators of the Indians, and have made grandiose promises of absolute independence. One of the Axis's best bets has been Subhas Chandra Bose, the Indian leader who has been trying to stir his people up from the security of Japanese controlled territory.

Tojo now tells us that the "Indian national army," which supposedly has been created from anti-British elements in Burma, is under command of Bose. This army, declares Tojo, "has begun its march to its native land," but he doesn't indicate whether Bose is with it. The Japanese premier says the plan is to liberate India and put it in the hands of the "free India provisional government."

If Tojo's story isn't just a pipe dream, he undoubtedly is hoping to get revolutionary support in Manipur state, Assam and especially in neighboring Bengal where most of the violent anti-British sentiment exists. However, he's playing a terrifically long shot without confidence of success, since he is up against well organized American, British and Indian forces in India.

Dies In Street Fall

PORTSMOUTH, March 24.—John McDaniel, 80, died today of a fractured skull received in a fall on an icy street.

BUS DRIVERS END GREYHOUND STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, March 24.—Full service on all runs of the Pennsylvania Greyhound lines was resumed today as 600 drivers, maintenance men and terminal workers ended a week-long strike which had halted the company's bus traffic out of Pittsburgh to New York and Chicago and points between.

Agreement to terminate the walk-out came after officials of the AFL-Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees appeared before the regional War Labor board yesterday in Philadelphia.

Identical agreements were signed in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, under which employees were to return to work without discrimination, two dismissed drivers were to be reinstated with full seniority rights after 20 days' suspension, and there was to be a further union-management discussion on a company bulletin which provided that any driver who declined a run assigned to him should be discharged.

ELECTRONIC COAST TO COAST EXPRESS

(By United Press)
NEW YORK—An "electronic express" speeding through a vacuum may one day provide one hour commuting service between New York and San Francisco, according to the prediction of Dr. Irving Langmuir, Nobel prize winning scientist. It may take 10 to 20 years to utilize fully the tremendous wartime developments in electronics. Dr. Langmuir wrote in a current issue of Mechanic Illustrated, but "there is no fundamental reason why we could not travel at a speed of 2,000 to 5,000 miles per hour through a vacuum tube in which electronically controlled, air-tight vehicles are magnetically suspended in space."

Such vehicles, Dr. Langmuir predicts, will reach speeds impossible to wheeled vehicles and even planes, which are limited by the speed of sound to something like 500 miles per hour.

Transportation advances are not the only ones heralded by electronic discoveries, however. Dr. Langmuir envisions an orchard cared for, cultivated, and harvested entirely by electronically controlled machines.

Asbestos was discovered in Arizona as a result of a battle between Indians and pioneers. Seeking high ground from which to fight off the attack, the pioneers came upon outcroppings of the mineral. A large asbestos mine is now located at the site.

Akens and Preisler Roll 1102 For New Women's Tourney Record

The first three places in the doubles changed hands as the women's city handicap bowling tournament came to a close on the Masonic alleys last night, bringing new records in both doubles and singles scores.

The doubles team of A. Akens and M. Preisler claimed the top prize money with a total of 1102, including Preisler's 598 on games of 224 and 177.

A. Bertolotto and R. Barber rolled into second place with 1082 and J. Sommers and E. Miller took third money with 1054.

The only change in the singles standing was E. Miller's 543, which gave her seventh prize.

The 1102 set a new doubles record for the women's association, 1090 having been the highest up to this season. Janice Nicolette's 615 was a new high for the singles, the previous high having been 611.

Women Bowlers Will Hold Annual Meeting Tuesday

The annual meeting of the Salem Women's Bowling association will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Masonic temple.

Officers for the coming year will be elected and medals and prizes will be awarded the city tournament winners.

All association members are urged to attend to get acquainted with the rules and regulations and to discuss any changes desired.

Reds' Utility Expert

BLOOMINGTON Ind. March 24—Woody Williams worries little about keeping busy with the Cincinnati Reds this year.

Woody is a utility infielder and regards himself as a sort of roving fireman. If any one of the four men in the infield finds he can't stand it another inning, Woody is called upon.

"It isn't easy," says Woody. "A utility infielder is like a relief pitcher. I always work out before the game to keep in shape."

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, March 24.—A basketball referee does plenty of work during a game, but the game's devotees seem to like nothing better than thinking up new tasks for the referee.

This weekend the coaches will be arguing out the proposal to stop "goal tending" by awarding a goal when a defensive player touches the ball on its descending arc toward the basket.

That sounds good, but one rules-maker points out that it's no worse than making the referee decide when a player jumping to bat out a shot gets his hand above the basket.

In spite of reports to the contrary, Miller Gil Dadds says he was born in Reiger, Kas., and not in Nebraska.

Best-named entry in the Kentucky derby (at a quick look) is Mrs. H. L. Finch's II, who never started as a two-year-old.

Just before the St. John's-Kentucky basketball game the other night, the Rev. Cyril Meyer, St. John's dean, received a letter from Pvt. Francis Harten, one of his former pupils now on the beachhead at Anzio, wishing the Redmen luck in the invitation tournament.

Mr. Meyer told Coach Joe Lapchick and while the team rested, Lapchick told the boys.

After St. John's had won, Mr. Martin asked: "Did you tell them about the letter, Joe?"

"Yes," Lapchick replied glumly, "but when they dropped seven points behind I thought I'd read 'em the wrong letter."

Assistant Coach At East Liverpool In Army

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 24.—John Susko, assistant high school football coach, resigned today preparatory to induction into the Army.

Susko, 31, who is married and has a daughter, will report to his new castle, (Pa.) draft board March 31.

William Laughlin, basketball mentor, was commissioned an ensign in the Navy March 1 when he reported for training at Hollywood, Fla.

Football Coach A. Gerald Capuzuti has been deferred until June by his Besemer (Pa.) draft board.

Ohioan Wins Fight

HIGHLAND PARK, N. J. March 24.—Lenny (Boom Boom) Mancini, 145, Youngstown, O., outpointed Rudy Richardson, 158, New Britain, Conn., in an eight-round fight here last night.

Spring Training Camp Briefs

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Yanks are going, and at the rate the World Champions are departing for the service perhaps it was slightly prophetic when Skipper Joe McCarthy had the boys participating in a potato race yesterday.

The American league race will be just that to them if the migration continues.

Roy Weatherly is the latest definitely to be lost. It was learned yesterday he can expect to go into the service April 1.

Jack Phillips, a combination outfielder-infielder, announced he would leave today to meet his draft board at East Aurora, N. Y. April 1.

Just a week ago the Yankees lost Catcher Bill Dickey and Second Baseman Joe Gordon.

New Out of Camps

Medford, Mass.—If Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox has his way, First Baseman Tony Lupien will be an all-field hitter this year.

WALLINGFORD, Conn.—Infielder Whitey Weikelmann of the Boston Braves threw his right elbow out of joint in batting practice yesterday and today he's due to have an eye cyst removed.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—The Nats are now pinning their third base hopes on Luis Suarez from Cuba.

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Things were looking up today for Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs, who was informed Outfielders Bill Nicholson and Andy Pafko would drift into camp this weekend. Both have been holdouts.

CAIRO, Ill.—Seven veterans are in the tentative lineups for the St. Louis Cardinals' game Sunday with the Fourth Ferrying command team from Memphis. They are Johnny Hopp, Stan Musial, Walker Cooper, Ray Sanders, George Kuroski, Danny Litwiler and Marty Marion.

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Roger Cramer, starting his 15th major league season with his first workout of the year yesterday, says he'll be ready for Tigers' opening exhibition Saturday. If so, he'll go back to centerfield.

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—The New York Giants' list of holdouts was down to six today, and only one—Ace Adams—is regarded seriously.

THE RED CARNATION by BURTON STEVENSON

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

Tony replaced the receiver in its cradle, spread out his notes and started to work. An hour later, he pulled the last sheet of paper from the machine, read over what he had written, made a correction or two, folded all the sheets together and slipped them into a long envelope addressed to the city editor of the Record. He placed the envelope on his desk where Clarence would find it when the messenger arrived who came up every morning from the office. It was a good column, he thought, as he got up and stretched. Better than average, anyway.

Only three paragraphs had anything to do with the people of this story:

Rhino not Reno:—Lily Edgerton started for Reno yesterday as per schedule, but enroute, exercising a woman's prerogative, changed her mind and decided to stick to Rhino. So she left the train at Buffalo and hurried back to New York. Nobody knows how Rhino feels, but he also may decide that it is time to settle down. As Whittier once said, "Death softens all resentments."

I. Said the Sparrow:—Who killed Jack McKibben? Was it a man he had robbed of his money, or a woman he had robbed of her reputation? Or was it that handsome, dark-skinned youth with the soft southern accent who was chasing him all evening, fire in his eye and a pistol in his pocket? One Up and One to Go:—But why did the murderer place a blood-stained carnation on the lapel of the dead man's coat—stained with blood, not McKibben's? Nobody has found an answer as yet to that one. And why did he fire a bullet through the mattress of McKibben's bed? The answer is that "Mack" was not killed with his own gun. He could not have been, for he had it in his pocket all evening. The bullet found beneath his body had not passed through his heart. It had passed through his mattress.

Duffy came in about noon next day, just as Tony was starting to go through his mail. He sat down, got out a cigar and glanced amusedly at the gloves Tony was wearing.

"You handle your letters as though they were poison," he said. "Some of them are—this one, for example," and Tony pushed across the desk a letter written in a clumsily disguised feminine hand on a sheet of pearl gray, faintly scented note paper.

Duffy leaned forward and read it without touching it:

It would be interesting to know the name of the over-plump blonde in a mink coat who spent Monday night with a well-known swing-dance artist in West 52nd Street. If her first name happens to be Cecile, there will be the devil to pay in a certain Park Avenue penthouse not so far from 68th Street, when her husband gets back from Chicago.

"Some jealous hussy trying to get even," Duffy commented. "Probably the regular girl friend of the swing-dance artist."

"Precisely," Tony agreed. "Cecile should have been more careful. It's astonishing how careless all the Ceciles get when they really want something." He picked up the note and sniffed at it. "Maybe this poison penster will put the husband wise. Maybe she'll try blackmail. Maybe she'll get hold of a pistol and take a shot at somebody—and then there's more work for the homicide squad."

"Something like the McKibben case?"

"Yes—something like it. Do you wonder I want to keep by fingerprints off anything like that?"

"But you can't use that sort of stuff. It's libelous."

"Only if somebody comes forward to say the cap fits," Tony pointed out, "and that almost never happens. But I don't use tantalizers—that's what we call items without names—I leave that to some of my competitors. I think I know the answer in this case," he added, looking at the letter appraisingly, "so I'll file this carefully away until something breaks."

"I suppose you read the papers this morning?" asked the detective.

"Of course. I always do."

"They're nagging me because there hasn't been any arrest."

"So I noticed. I also noticed that you intimated an arrest might be expected today. Have you any idea who?"

"I sort of thought it might be that handsome, soft-speaking southerner you've been writing about."

"Have you got anything on him?"

"Only that he was chasing McKibben, and had a lump in his pocket."

"Do you know who he is?"

"Not yet, but I'll find him."

"Have you found the girl?"

"No, but I have a hunch that I'm going to find both of them in the same place," said Duffy slowly. "As I figure it out, it was on account of the girl that the boy was after McKibben."

"Yes, I think you're right," Tony nodded.

"Suppose you tell me all you know about him," the detective suggested.

So Tony told him all he knew, while Duffy listened thoughtfully, rolling his cigar from one side of his mouth to the other. "And what about that bullet hole in the mattress?" he asked.

"You've seen it?"

"Yes, I went around this morning."

"And you saw the skillet?"

"Yes, I noticed that, too."

"Well, there is only one possible explanation. McKibben wasn't shot with his own gun. He had it with him."

"Yes—Lily Edgerton told me."

"The murderer used a high-power cartridge which sent the bullet right through McKibben's body. Then he picked up the bullet and the shell, got McKibben's gun out of his pocket, or out of the drawer if he'd put it back there, placed the skillet under the bed, fired a shot at it through the mattress, retrieved the bullet, placed it under the body, and the shell on the floor beside it."

"Sounds plausible," Duffy agreed.

"I went through McKibben's apartment last night, as I told you over the phone," Tony continued, "but I didn't find anything except that bullet hole. McKibben's boy says there is a towel missing from the bathroom."

"Yes, he told me. Can you make anything of that?"

"Not a thing. But it certainly seems to me it would be dead easy to get into the place from the windows just above the terrace."

"I thought of that myself," said Duffy, "and I looked the ground over. There are two apartments on the seventh floor which have windows overlooking the terrace. One is occupied by a psychotherapist named Jerome Metcalf, and the other fellow named Dudley Graham, who is a nephew of Herschel Schneider, the lawyer. Schneider is attorney for the company which owns the building. The original company went into bankruptcy a few years ago, and he organized another which bought the place for about twenty cents on the dollar. He took over for himself the penthouse on top of the building where he has been living ever since. Quite a swell place, they tell me. That's when McKibben moved in, too. He had placed some of the bonds for Schneider and I imagine got a rebate on his rent."

Tony couldn't help smiling at Duffy's tone. Schneider's many triumphs in the courts hadn't endeared him to the police.

"Maybe you'll get something on him some day," he said.

"I hope so!" Duffy grunted. "This Dr. Metcalf strikes me as pretty smooth, too. He has had his office there for a couple of years and must have a good practice from the look of things."

"He has," nodded Tony. "One of the best in New York. I've heard of him. Neurotic women flock to him."

"He looks sort of like it. Quite a showy person, with shiny black eyes and a little black beard. I had a talk with him. He says he didn't hear any row or any shot at McKibben's place Monday night. He's a bachelor and has one servant, a Jap. During office hours he also has a receptionist—a looker."

"Did he know McKibben?" Tony asked.

"Yes. He was one of his customers. Said he had lost quite a lot. I haven't had a chance to check that up yet. He was polite enough, but I could see he was not telling me any more than he had to. I'm going to keep an eye on him."

"I would," Tony nodded.

"This Graham, who has the other flat," Duffy went on, "acts as a sort of agent for his uncle. He's married, but I understand he plays around a good deal."

"I've seen him at Max's," said the columnist. "He's got a good-looking wife. I remember he had some sort of run-in with McKibben once, but I don't know what it was about. It might have been about his wife."

"He couldn't have had anything to do with this, because he has been out in Hollywood for the past month, looking after some of Schneider's movie interests."

4,000 Churches In England Have Been Bombed During War

(By Associated Press)

BOSTON—Four thousand churches in England have been destroyed or damaged by German bombs but the churches "are facing their tasks of reconstruction in a gallant and high-hearted manner," Rev. William Cecil Northcott of London, home secretary of the London Missionary society, said here.

He listed the destruction of churches, by denominations, as follows: Church of England, 163 destroyed, 1,280 damaged; Baptist and Congregationalist, more than 800 lost or damaged; Methodists, 1,316 lost or damaged; Church of Scotland, nine destroyed, 170 damaged; Roman Catholic, 234 lost or damaged.

Rev. Northcott paid high tribute to the American soldier in England, saying: "Your American boys have won the hearts of the British people by their kindness and generosity to British children."

"I saw crowds of American soldiers giving presents to children in the midst of one of the most battered cities in Britain."
